Pediatric dentist Sarah Post is an expert in providing for the oral health needs of children, infants and teens — and for their comfort, too. The 2004 McMinnville High School valedictorian graduate has returned to her hometown to open her own practice, Pebble Pediatric Dentistry. She will feature special equipment and decorations to appeal to children.

Post decided on dentistry after volunteering alongside a pediatric dentist in a medical clinic in Ecuador. She continues volunteer dental work to this day. The best part of her job, she said, is making a difference for patients, “one healthy little smile at a time.”

Post graduated from the University of Oregon in 2008 and Oregon Health Sciences University School of Dentistry in 2012. She completed the Doernbecher Children’s Hospital Pediatric Dental Residency Program in 2015. Pebble Pediatric Dentistry will feature special equipment and decorations to appeal to children.

As manager at Carlton Corners, Brandie Stepp loves working with her community — both customers and coworkers at the restaurant, gas station and convenience store. Her duties include maintaining inventory, welcoming new hires, managing employees, processing customer charge accounts and taking care of other needs.

Eventually, she wants to be an educator at a university or other institution of higher ed. Education and learning have always been cornerstones of her identity — that’s what led her to her job at Carlton Corners, after all. As manager at Carlton Corners, Stepp enjoys living in the Yamhill Valley, which she calls “pure beauty.” She enjoys the community feel, as well as the delicious local food, wine and beer. She dedicates most of her spare time to making art, including still life drawings and other illustrative works. She also loves watching movies, listening to music and reading, especially poetry.

As far as passions go, you won’t find anyone more devoted to Student Affairs than Lainie Sowell. Hailing from Concord, North Carolina, Sowell completed her Bachelor of Arts in Special Education & Psychology at Converse College in 2013. She began the first four years of her professional career teaching K-12 special education, but found it was not quite the right fit for her passions. She loved the student development and mentorship aspects of being a teacher, and found that she was enjoying training her fellow teachers in alternative certification programs. However, she felt something was missing.

After a phone call with a treasured mentor from her undergraduate years, who recommended she look into student affairs, she set herself on a path towards doing just that by enrolling in the Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education & Counseling to attain her Master of Arts in Student Affairs Administration. Sowell completed her postgraduate education and found meaningful work in becoming Linfield University’s case manager. Her duties include responding to incoming concerns regarding students’ problem-solving, connecting them to campus and community resources, and fostering self-advocacy and resilience to overcome future barriers. Sowell also helps Linfield students face challenges like mental health issues, academic challenges, social or interpersonal conflicts, and balancing life commitments both on- and off-campus. The best part of her job is interacting with students.

If she’s not taking on the challenges students have in adjusting to life on campus, Sowell can be found perfecting in the endless outdoor adventures that can be found just a short drive away from her hometown of McMinnville, or baking at home with her wife and dog. Some of her favorite outdoor activities include camping, hiking, and paddling.

Hi I am Cindy Manning, a Senior Escrow Officer at First American Title in Newberg, OR. I'm an Oregon native with over 20 years of escrow experience. I have been with First American Title since 1997 and am so happy to have settled in this beautiful town of Newberg.

College sports? Yes please! Ballroom dancing? I'm in! Traveling, especially to unique locations where I can really immerse myself in local experiences in which I exchange. (Ask me about the time I was stopped by a road plane in rural Alaska).

There are so many reasons to love my escrow career! Having the ability to help facilitate buyers achieve home ownership is very meaningful to me. Being a resource for proactive approaches in unique situations is rewarding and something I focus on in what I bring to the table. My experience has given me opportunities to learn how to maneuver hard transactions to close. I promise you clear, honest communication and a positive attitude are well fitted attributes to our team and we are very excited about her promotion to Escrow Officer.

When you’re born with a gift for numbers, you might say certain careers stand out as attractive. That’s how it was for Kyle Johnson, a principal certified public accountant at Johnson & Mohr CPAs in McMinnville. Kyle’s favorite part of being a CPA is his ability to use numbers to help people when they turn to him. He also enjoys being able to help taxpayers save money and providing his clients with financial clarity and guidance while building relationships with them while working with them as a team to aid in their success.

In addition to his duties in income tax preparation, income tax planning/consulting and accounting, Kyle has over nine years of experience specializing in the tax side of estate planning, trust and estate tax. Fitting for the heart of Oregon Wine Country, Kyle focuses on tax and accounting issues for wineries and vineyards. Kyle belongs to the Oregon CPA Society and the American Institute of CPAs. He plans to continue practicing his profession for many years to come and would love to travel to many different destinations throughout the world with his wife, Haley. He also looks forward to building his career in a fast paced and challenging environment.

Kyle was born and raised in Spring Valley, California, suburb of San Diego. Kyle decided to move to the Pacific Northwest in order to play baseball at George Fox University. While there, he graduated with two bachelor’s degrees—one in accounting, the other in business finance.

Certified Public Accountant Joshua Mohr started out working in construction. But after losing his job in the recession, he went back to school to study engineering—and ended up falling in love with accounting instead.

Mohr, who works for Johnson & Mohr CPAs, enjoys the organization and problem solving involved in accounting. Those come naturally to him.

Working as a CPA also leads him to meet many people in the community, and he appreciates both the relationships and the doors those relationships open for him.

Born in Pasadena, California, Mohr moved to Oregon when he was 6 and grew up in Silverton. After earning a diploma from Silverton High School and working construction in Bend, he enrolled in Central Oregon Community College. He later transferred to Linfield College, from which he earned an accounting degree.

He has extensive experience with QuickBooks Online and regulations regarding the taxation of farms.

He belongs to the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Oregon Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Twenty years from now, he sees himself co-leading the largest CPA firm in Yamhill County. He and his wife also want to lead a variety of businesses and ministries in the U.S. and Africa.

Mohr already has used his accounting skills in Africa. He and his wife, an OB nurse, and children have traveled to Uganda twice to assist a nonprofit that equips people with work skills so they can provide for their families. The organization also plants schools and churches in remote parts of the countries of Uganda, South Africa and Lesotho.

Closer to home, Mohr spends his free time surfing, snowboarding, hiking, rock climbing and engaging in other outdoor activities.

Woodworking has been his hobby since he started working for a high-end custom homebuilder in Bend right after graduating from high school. He built wooden doors, furniture, fireplace mantels and other custom pieces.

A skilled carpenter, he now makes furniture from reclaimed wine barrels.

Mohr and his family live in McMinnville. He enjoys the people and the beauty of the area, and likes having both the coast and the mountains nearby.

Insurance Broker Daisy Amerson loves working with the people who come into Chris Browne Insurance looking for new insurance or help and advice related to their existing policies. Licensed with every insurance company in Oregon, Amerson sells Medicare, individual and small group policies to customers in McMinnville and all over the state.

“I love the constant changes in insurance,” she said, but the best part of her job is making personal connections.

Amerson was born in Portland and raised in Carlton, graduating from Yamhill-Carlton High School in 1996. She started working in the insurance business 10 years ago with Chris Browne, who owned the agency. “I learned everything I know from Chris,” she said. “With her help, I was able to fall in love with insurance and helping people.” Amerson plans to remain in the insurance industry in Yamhill County for the long term. She also will keep volunteering here; she has been co-chair of the McMinnville Wine & Food Classic for four years.

The mother of a 19-year-old son, Kaleb, Amerson said she loves the small-town feel of the Yamhill Valley. She enjoys spending time with her best friends, tasting wine and working out at McMinnville Crossfit.

Brian Turner is an observant and precise sort of guy. After spending seven years as a golf professional and golf event coordinator, Brian put his precision skills to work in auto insurance claims. There, he noticed the service provided to customers who’d recently been involved in automobile accidents was sadly lacking. Refocused, Brian took on the challenge to join Roger Fowler at McMinnville’s well-known, full-service auto body shop, J&W CARSTAR.

A native of Omak in North Central Washington, Brian earned a bachelor’s degree in history from Washington State University. As general manager and co-owner of J&W CARSTAR, Brian works with dealership and insurance partners to ensure customers’ vehicles are restored to pre-loss condition with the help of CARSTAR’s 15 dedicated and highly skilled employees.

Brian lives in McMinnville with his wife and their newly adopted 3-year-old daughter. An avid alpine skier, Brian loves spending time outdoors surrounded by the beauty of the Pacific Northwest — of course, you might also find him playing golf when he’s not helping customers. Brian and his wife are enthusiastic supporters of community dog and cat rescue organizations.
